

Wilhelm K. Weber

Wilhelm's passion for the hospitality business brought him to the renowned Swiss Hotel School in Lucerne – the first of various study topics. Age 29 he was the youngest member of a management team of a global hotel group, age 31 he became the youngest dean of a private business school in Switzerland. In 2010 he founded SHS Swiss Hospitality Solutions – with a business concept where his ex-bosses had told him, he would never succeed. Together with his business partner Gianluca Marongiu he developed the company into the national market leader.

The team has proved in various projects that profits can be raised even in difficult market environments. "We are the "anti-case" to anything I learned during my studies – and that's what makes us successful" explains Weber. In addition to various further involvements in different companies, Weber lectures at several business schools and Universities, he is the author of numerous articles and two books. For his engagements, he was awarded as "Young European Industry Leader" in 2010.
