

Claudia Wagner

Claudia Wagner has been managing director of Fit Reisen, the number 1 tour operator for health and wellness holidays since 1993. She is responsible for the areas of product, product development as well as hotel purchasing and consultation at the Fit Reisen headquarters in Frankfurt am Main.

She shaped the success story of the company. Convinced of the Ayurvedic practices and principles on health, she already participated in Ayurvedic treatments in Sri Lanka in 1992 and later also in India. In 1995 she expanded the Fit Reisen portfolio to include health packages with Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM). Other travel countries in Asia as well as European health destinations with holistic health and wellness offers such as detox, fasting, fango and medical wellness were added. With her many years of experience and expertise in this field and her good sense for trends, she has been continuously expanding the product range. In addition, she advises hotels on how to put together attractive packages.

Together with her colleagues Jan Seifried and Dr. Nils Asmussen, who took over the company in 2009, she has made Fit Reisen the leading tour operator in the growing market of health tourism.
